Global Overview:

United States:

The US market closed the day higher, after investors reacted favorably to the employment data reported today by the Department of Labor, which showed that, in August, 130 thousand new jobs were created, below the forecast of 158 thousand, but with a solid increase of +0.4% in earnings per hour worked, which would indicate that the economy is still in good condition. In the same way, the president of the FED, Jerome Powell, indicated that the central bank will react appropriately to sustain economic expansion in the country. In corporate news, the Facebook Inc share fell -1.8%, after it was reported that the New York attorney general opened a case against the company, for alleged violations of the anti-trust law and users' privacy rights. On the other hand, sources related to the WeWork company indicated that the company will continue with its plan to organize a roadshow of investors, pointing to a future IPO for around 20 billion dollars, although this valuation represents considerably less than the 47 billion dollars raised in its last funding of private capital at the beginning of the year.

Europe:

The European market closed with most of its indexes on the rise due to a lower probability of a Brexit without agreement, after two failures of the British Prime Minister who wanted Brexit to occur under any situation on October 31, and a better economic panorama worldwide, since, both in the US as in China, positive economic data were presented, which led to the STOXX 600 index rising +0.32%. The DAX index gained +0.5%, after ThyssenKrupp AG shares rose +4.67%, knowing that Kone company (+2.36%) is considering participating in consortium, in a bid to buy the elevator division of the first company. On the contrary, Telcel shares fell -3.4% after the surprise end of the negotiations that the company had with its counterpart of the telecommunications sector in Malaysia, Axiata Group, for improve the market position of both companies in Southeast Asia. In corporate news, the US Department of Justice reported that it is investigating BMW AG (+0%) and Volkswagen AG (-0.29%) for allegedly incurring a trust by negotiating directly with California on emission standards.

Asia:

The Asian market closed the session with positive results, amid better expectations for plans for new trade negotiations between China and the U.S., which was reflected in the main indexes: Nikkei +0.54%, S & P / ASX 200 +0.52%, Kospi Composite +0.22%, Hang Seng +0.66%, Shanghai Composite +0.46% and Taiwan TAIEX +0.22% closed higher, among others. In individual shares, Honda +3.01%, AAC +2.94%, Sunny Optical +2.74%, Galaxy Entertainment +2.12% and Samsung +1.31% ended up with higher yields, among others. According to Zhu Huan of the Treasury Department of Asia and Oceania of the Mizuho Bank, this is a positive sign that the meetings will take place at multiple levels. However, he added that "as limited progress is expected, there will still be many twists and turns along the way and the obstacle to getting more good news is substantially greater. Therefore, we believe that the rally could be short-lived without further progress". Investors have remained concerned that the uncertainty caused by the conflict and the consequences of tariffs exacerbate a slowdown in global economic growth and negatively affect corporate profits.
