Global Overview:

United States:

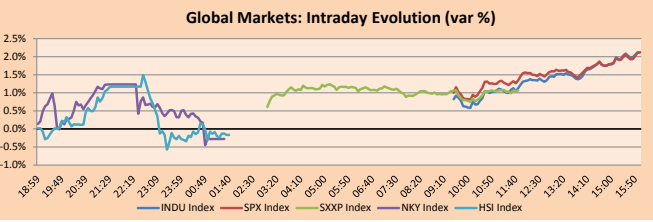

El mercado de Estados Unidos finalizó la jornada con resultados positivos como resultado de las elecciones de medio término para elegir al Congreso, que obtuvo resultados divididos. El partido republicano retuvo el Senado, mientras que los demócratas recuperaron el control de la Cámara de Representantes, lo que ayudaría a evitar nuevas imposiciones tributarias por parte del presidente Donald Trump, republicano. Aún no existe certeza de cómo será el enfoque de gobierno con un congreso bipartidario, ya que el presidente comunicó anteriormente su deseo por defender causas demócratas, sin embargo anoche expresó que tomaría una postura de guerra contra ellos si deciden iniciar investigaciones sobre su gobierno. Adicionalmente, el dólar perdió valor contra las otras principales monedas. Por otro lado, las acciones tuvieron rendimientos al alza, impulsadas por el sector tecnológico que ayudaron a los índices S&P (+2.12%), Nasdaq (+2.64%) y Dow Jones (+2.13%) a cerrar en positivo. El S&P obtuvo su mejor ganancia diaria de las últimas 3 semanas, mientras que el Dow Jones subió más de 500pts. El sector energético también tuvo protagonismo en los índices, donde compañías como Pioneer Natural Resources (+8.88%) y Anadarko Petroleum (+5.70%) fueron algunas de las que lideraron las ganancias diarias.

Europe:

The European stock market closed the session with positive results among its main indices. For example, the FTSE MIB, the DAX, the CAC 40, among others. The British stock index soared after mid-term elections in the United States led to a divided Congress, with Democrats taking control of the House of Representatives and Republicans clinging to the Senate. Given this situation, investors have gone out to look for more risky assets, in this way the British FTSE 100 index recovered after falling 0.9% on Tuesdays. With respect to the pound sterling, it jumped from $ 1.3099 to $ 1.3168 last Tuesday in New York, supported by a weakness of the US dollar. In corporate news, despite the positive sentiment in the eurozone markets, some companies have shown downward performances such as Marks & Spencer Group, which fell almost 1% after its revenues plummeted in both the food and consumer markets. clothes and home Similarly, it happened with ITV PLC, which fell more than 3% after showing weakness in its fourth quarter results due to greater economic uncertainty. On the other hand, the price of oil rose, as well as that of mining companies in more than 1.00%.

Asia:

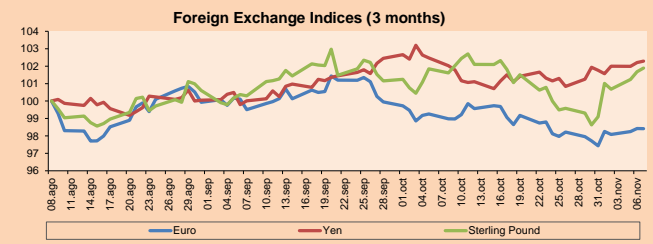

The Asian stock market ended the day with negative results among its main indices, with the exception of the Hang Seng that closed with a variation of +0.10. Stocks had a volatile performance in a session marked by speculation about the consequences of the victory of the Democratic Party in the House of Representatives and the continuing effects of Sino-American trade conflict. The Nikkei 225 index ended the session at 22085.80 points, which represents a daily variation from the previous close of -0.28%. The sectors, define by the Global Industrial Classification Standard (GICS), which led the losses were Energy (-4.88%) and Industrial (-1.67%) while Takara Holdings (-13.40%) had the worst performance among the companies that make up the index and is at its lowest level in more than 7 weeks, one day after presenting financial results for the first half of 2018, which were lower than forecasted. In the mainland market, the CSI 300, composed of Blue Chip shares decreased in 0.65%, of the stocks that make up the index, 71 closed higher and 215 lower. The Shanghai Composite fell 0.68% in this session and its YTD yield is at -20.13%.
