Global Overview:

United States:

The main US indices closed the day in positive territory for the second consecutive day, thanks to the Fed Chairman's remarks. Stocks have found some balance in the days following the FED's monetary policy decision and post-meeting messages. Jerome Powell, chairman of the FED, testified before the House of Representatives, reiterating that inflationary pressures are temporary. "We will not raise interest rates preemptively because we have the potential emergence of inflation. Let's wait for evidence of actual inflation or other imbalances" concluded Powell. Major U.S. indexes closed higher, highlighted by the NASDAQ, which rose to a record high as technology stocks benefited from investors' focus on growth stocks. On the other hand, home sales fell for the fourth consecutive month in May after prices reached a new high. This trend could persist for a while, due to the cost of building materials. Among the outstanding stocks we have Microsoft +1.1.0%, after taking its act application to USD 2 trillion. At the same time, the price of Bitcoin stabilized after it traded back above $32000. Thus, DOW JONES +0.20%; $&P 500 +0.51%; NASDAQ +0.79% ended the day with positive returns.

Europe:

European markets ended stocks with positive results, driven by the rise in mining and energy stocks benefiting from stable commodity prices. On the other hand, investors are concerned about the speech given by Jerome Powell, chairman of the Federal Reserve. The pan-European STOXX600 index ended higher, due to growth in the mining sector + 1.3% driven by the recovery in the price of metals. Likewise, the ECES volatility index fell to 177, easing the tension and investors. On the other hand, the British FTSE100 index ended higher, thanks to the growth in the Real Estate sectors + 2.34% and Health + 2.17%, also the travel sector rose by 0.5%, after the British Secretary of Health said that it was continues to work to reduce travel restrictions. Finally, among the highlights of the day, Kingspan Group rose 6.95% after foreasting big sales for the second quarter of 2021. On the other hand, Sanofi fell 0.6% despite its start in the Phase I clinical trial for a seasonal flu vaccine. Thus, the STOXX 600 + 0.26%, CAC 40 + 0.14%, FTSE 100 + 0.39%. DAX + 0.21% closed with nostlive returns.

Asia:

is ain mainland indexes ended trading mostly higher as investors remained expectant of Fed chief Jerome Powell's remarks. On the other hand, China's central bank said on Monday that it had recently summoned some banks and payment companies, including China Construction Bank and Alipay, urging them to take action against cryptocurrency trading. Thus, Hong Kong closed lower due to weakness in technology stocks mainly in blockchain-related assets. Contrarily, the Shanghai Composite ended with gains after Blejing's reform measures to the way banks calculate deposit rates boosted the financial sector -0.58% and oils' rise did the same for the energy sector -22.93%. Similarly, Japan's NIKKEI attributed its gains to the transportation sector after Mitsui OSK closed 10.2% higher to reach a decade high after tripling its annual revenue forecast. Finally, the SAP/ASX 200 closed higher driven by the Energy 2-224% and Financials +2.01% sectors. Thus, NIKKEI +3.16%; HANG SENG -0.63%; CSI 300 +0.62%; SHANGHAI COMPOSITE +0.80%; KOSPI 0.71%; S&P/ASX 200 +1.48% closed mostly higher.
