The American stock market closed today with positive results. The Dow Jones and the 5 & P500 obtained the best one-day percentage increase since mid-2015, of 2.84% and 2.72%, respectively. Both indicators were mainly driven by the sectors of information Technology, led by Microsoft Corp. and its increase of 7.57%; and Finance, with Comerica Inc. and its 4.85%. Earnings are an important part of the recovery because of last week losses, caused by fears of a trade ware between the United States and China, so this week they began taiks to relax their policies and restore the calm of investors. These changes affected the price of Gold that had been rising rapidly as a form of monetary protection in the face of market uncertainty. However, a slight recovery of the dollar due to the relaxation of the China-US conflict true tailm to the increases on its price in the future market, which reached its highest value in the last 5 weeks. Finally, Bitcoin experienced a big foro (6.7% at the dose of the market) after Twitter joined the group of social networks that will avoid the publication of advertising related to cryptocurrencies on their natroms. platforms

Europe:

The European stock market ended the day with negative results among its main indices. This fall is due to the increase in the euro and tensions between the United Ine European stock market ended the day with negative results among its main indices. Inis tail is due to the increase in the euro and tensions between the United States and Russia, which could enerate a greater protectionist sentiment in the US trade policy. In more detail, representatives of the United States said do Monday that they would expel to Moscow to 60 Russian diplomats who join governments across Europe that punish the Kermlin for the attack of a neurotic agent against a former Russian spy in Britain. In other news, the IBEX of Spain fell 0.1%, after the second update of the country's rating led to a greater performance of its bond market compared to its peers in the euro zone. On the other hand, the tailan FTSE index had a negative return of 1.2%, as speculation grows that the Anti-migrant and anti-estabilishment League of the S-Star Movement could explore an aliance to form a government, in addition, the political increasis in Italy, generated an increase in the yields of Italian bonds. Finally, Italian banks, widely used as representatives to negotiate political risk in the country, fell by 1.7%.

Asia:

The Asian stock market closed the day with losses among its main indices. The main cause of this situation remains the tension between the United States and China. The actions of the latter were the ones that fell the most during the day (up to 2%). With respect to the Niket this is at its lowest point since early October, this quarter has fallen 9.8%, with technology stocks leading the decline of the index. For its part, the Japanese Yen, which acts as a refuge for investors in times of stress, fell by almost 0.5% against other currencies at the beginning of the week. In other news, the Trump administration is urging China to reduce tariffs on cars and open its market to US financial services to ease the trade tensions that have shaken world markets. Yi Gang, governor of the People's Bank of China, said on Sunday at the China Development Forum in Beijing, that will gradually open the country to foreign investors. It is expected that the Yuan, which is junder government control, will remain more or less stable, and that a second phase of the cross-border settlement system will be launched for its currency. The dollar bought 6.2808 yuan for the last time on Eriok. last time on Friday
