Global Overview:

United States:

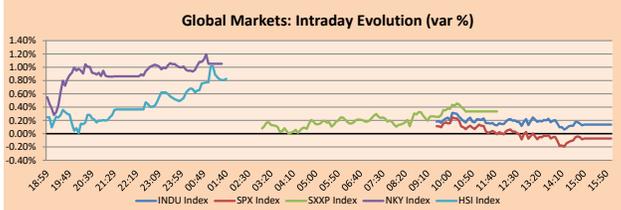

The US market closed the day with mixed results. The main indices ended with the following S&P 500 results down -0.07% and DJI up +0.14%. President Donald Trump would consider an interim trade agreement with China, although he would rather have a full agreement to end the trade war. With respect to the presidential elections, more than two thirds of the main CFOs (financial directors) believe that Trump will be re-elected in the 2020 elections. The Goldman Sachs company significantly reduced its target price for Apple shares by -26 % from its closing price ($ 223) last Thursday during a presentation of its new 2020 products. The Federal Reserve (FED) is expected to reduce interest rates by a quarter point next Wednesday because they believe that the economy is weak enough to justify a rate reduction. Also, the financial markets (the main indices) seem to pressure the Fed to take measures to avoid a recession in the coming years. The companies with the best results of the day were Cimarex Energy Co (+ 8.21%) and Pioneer Natural Resources Co (+ 3.90%) by SPX 500 and Dow Inc (+ 2.62%) and JPMorgan Chase & Co (+ 1.97%) by the DJI.

Europe:

The European market closed the day today on the rise being driven by its main index Euro Stoxx 500 + 0.34%. On the other hand, the President of the European Commission (EC), Jean-Claude Juncker, and the British Prime Minister, Boris Johnson, plan to keep a working in Luxembourg next Monday, being confirmed by the European Executive. This will be the first time for Juncker and Johnson to speak in person since the British assumed the position of prime minister of the United Kingdom. According to community spokeswoman Natasha Berland "The European Union wants to work constructively with Prime Minister Johnson and they had not had the opportunity to meet yet." In other news, the five major countries of the European Union (EU) were "very concerned" about the election promises of Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu to annex the Jordan Valley in the occupied West Bank, because it would be "more difficult" to achieve peace. France, Germany, Italy, Spain and the United Kingdom underline, in a statement released by the French Foreign Ministry on Thursday night (12.09.2019), that if these announcements about the Jordan Valley and the north coast of the Dead Sea "would constitute a serious violation of international law."

Asia:

Asian markets closed higher, amid signs of hope for an improvement in the US and China trade war. According to the Wall Street Journal, China sought to narrow the scope of upcoming trade negotiations, with the motivation to solve some key problems and break the deadlock for months. In addition, President D. Trump announced that he would be open to a smaller-scale interim trade agreement. Besides, Trump postponed tariff increases by $ 250 billion in Chinese products for two weeks and China exempted more than a dozen US products from new tariff hikes. Thus, the Nikkei of Japan + 1.05%, Hang Seng of Hong Kong + 0.98%, Singapore STI + 0.52%, S & P / ASX 200 of Australia + 0.21%, Shanghai Composite + 0.75% and Kospi Composite of North Korea + 0.84% rose, among other indices. Regarding corporate shares, Yahoo Japan + 4.92%, Softbank + 3.20%, Fast Retailing + 0.62%, Sunny Optical + 2.58% and the Volvo parent Geely Automobile company + 4.75% ended upwards, among others. Finally, Tony Roth, investment director of Wellington Trust, said "what drives markets today is the potential for an interim trade agreement."
