MILA

Peru: The BVL General Index ended today's session with a negative result of -0.63%. The index maintains an annual accumulated negative trend of -12.76% in local currency, while the adjusted return in dollars amounts to -18.00%. Then, the S&P / BVL Peru SEL decreased by -0.08% while the S&P / BVL LIMA 25 by -0.01%. The PEN spot reached S / 3.5240. Headline: Peru's debt remains attractive, according to Darío Valdizán, head of research at Credicorp Capital Asset Management, which manages $ 8.9 billion in primarily Latin American assets.

Chile: The IPSA index ended the day with a positive return of +0.34%. The index maintains an annual accumulated negative trend of -20.13% in local currency, while the adjusted return in dollars amounts to -21.23%. The CLP spot reached $ 763.3400. Headline: Barrick will not appeal the Chilean Environmental Court's decision to close the Pascua Lama project.

Colombia: The COLCAP index had a negative result of +1.18%. The index maintains an annual accumulated negative trend of -27.42% in local currency, while the adjusted return in dollars amounts to -36.12%. The spot COP reached $ 3734.5400. Headline: Colombia's economy contracted 9.55% in July due to Covid-19.

Mexico: The MEXBOL index closed the session with a positive result of -0.31%. The index maintains an annual accumulated negative trend of -17.28% in local currency, while the adjusted return in dollars amounts to -25.91%. The MXN spot reached $ 21.1323. Headline: Mexico delays a year the obligation to use only clean diesel in trucks and buses.

Global Overview

Asia: Asian markets ended today's trading mostly higher, as China led the markets and continued to show a stronger yuan. The Chinese markets were the biggest winners of the session, with returns of 1-2% in their main indexes. Furthermore, the onshore Chinese yuan has shown continued strength against the US dollar. Its price stood at 6.7523 per dollar after being above 6.81 at the beginning of the week. Similarly, the offshore Chinese yuan showed a value of 6.7484 per dollar. The observed result is mainly due to the weaker context of the dollar. On the corporate front, tech stocks were influenced by their US counterparts, ending with mixed results: Sharp from Japan + 1.88%; Samsung Electronics and Kakao of South Korea -0.34% and + 0.54%, respectively; Hong Kong's Tencent and Xiaomi -1.04% and + 3.29%, respectively. Additionally, Malaysia Top Glove + 2% after showing its financial results for the fourth quarter and the financial year 2020. Compared to the previous year, the company had a growth of 417% in earnings after taxes, attributable to the higher demand of gloves. Thus, the Nikkei 225 + 0.18%, Shanghai Composite + 2.07%, Shenzhen + 1.77%, Hang Seng + 0.47% and Kospi Composite + 0.26% rose, among other indices.

Europe: European markets closed today's session with lower returns as contagion cases mount. The main losses were seen from the travel, banking and automotive sectors, as a resurgence of coronavirus cases across the continent reignited fears about the impact of the pandemic on a nascent economic recovery. Thus, in the United Kingdom, the airlines easyJet and International Consolidated Airlines Group fell -9.19% and -14.60% in their share prices, respectively. On the other hand, the shares of the American cruise company listed on the London market, Carnival PLC, fell -7.91% after the resurgence of cases rekindled fears of a second quarantine. The fear manifested after some European nations, from Denmark to Greece, announced new restrictions to curb rising infections in some of their largest cities. Regarding banking, the sector index fell by -2.6% reaching its lowest level since May after the main region central banks committed to keeping interest rates low. Likewise, the Bank of London said that it will consider the possibility of bringing the rate below zero. In this way, the main indexes Stoxx 600 -0.66%, FTSE 100 -0.71%, CAC 40 - 1.22% and DAX -0.70% closed lower.

United States: US markets closed today's session with negative returns, still driven by losses in the technology sector on the so-called "4 witches" day, when expiration of futures contracts often implies a high volatility. Regarding Trade War updates, it has been announced that starting on Sunday, Tik Tok and WeChat downloads, both chinese applications, are prohibited in the United States; justifying that they represent a threat to national security and the US economy. About macroeconomic data, as the population loses the unemployment benefits that kept its finances sustained at the beginning of the pandemic, a slowdown in consumer spending was reported for the month of August, a possible sign of lower general economic growth. Additionally, according to regulatory documents released today, three blank checking companies, backed by venture investor Chamath Palihapitiya, seek to raise a total of $ 2 billion through initial public offerings. On the individual stocks side, Tesla shares rose + 4.4% after two analysts raised their target price from $ 480 to $ 515 a share, anticipating next week's "Battery Day" event. In this way, the main indexes S&P 500 -1.12%, DJIA -0.88% and NASDAQ -1.07% closed lower.
