WORLD

United States:

The U.S. market closed with mixed performances. The DOW JONES finished in the green as investors awaited economic data and statements from Federal Reserve policymakers later in the week for clarity on the path of interest rates. Elsewhere, Rite Aid plunged 33.3% after news broke that the drugstore chain is negotiating a bankruptcy plan that would include liquidating a substantial portion of its more than 2,100 pharmacies. In addition, Foot Locker lost 1.9% and Nike also fell 0.3% after analysts at Jefferies downgraded the stock. The S&P 500 index also ended with positive returns, among individual stocks, Amazon gained about 1.7% after the company said it would invest up to $4 billion in artificial intelligence company Anthropic. Netflix added 1.3% after striking Hollywood screenwriters reached a new tentative labor agreement. Finally, the NASDAQ index ended the day higher. Among technology stocks, TransCode Therapeutics Inc. (+287.04%), Vaccitech PLC ADR (+88.10%) and Biophytis S.A. ADR (+80.66%) were the top performers. Thus, DOW JONES +0.13%, S&P 500 +0.40%, NASDAQ +0.45% with the market having positive returns.

Europe:

Major European indices ended the session with negative returns. The pan-European STOXX 600 index closed lower, as there are signs that the ECB may halt its interest rate hikes, as concerns about the economic slowdown outweigh inflationary fears. In addition, ECB President Lagarde stated that policymakers believe that the bank's policy rates have reached levels that, if sustained over an extended period, would contribute significantly to achieving the inflation target. The UK market, reflected in the FTSE 100 closed with a negative performance, where stocks exposed to the Chinese economy and US borrowing costs, especially industrial miners, were among the biggest laggards, with Rio Tinto and Antofagasta falling by 2%, while Anglo American and Fresnillo declined by more than 1%. Similarly, the German market, reflected in the DAX index, closed in negative territory, dragged down by travel and leisure and household goods stocks. This decline was driven by a rally in bond yields due to concerns about rising oil prices and their potential impact on inflation and the outlook for monetary policy. The French market closed negative, with luxury brands Kering, Hermès and LVMH the biggest laggards, down 4.4%, 3.2% and 2.5%, after Chinese real estate giant Evergrande cancelled a meeting with its creditors, raising concerns about its massive debt and the country's general economic slowdown. Thus, FTSE 100 -0.78%; CAC 40 -0.85%; DAX -0.98%; STOXX 600 -0.62% ended with

Asia:

Major Asian indices closed with mixed performances. The Chinese market ended lower as cautious foreign investors dumped domestic stocks ahead of a week-long holiday, while a weak regional market also weighed on sentiment. On the corporate front, China Evergrande shares fell 21.8% after the beleaguered developer said it could not issue new debt due to an ongoing investigation into one of its subsidiaries, dealing another blow to its restructuring plans. Elsewhere, the Hang Seng index closed negative, driven by tech giants down 2.7% and mainland developers down 4.2%. The South Korean market ended lower as investors weighed rising oil prices and the U.S. Federal Reserve's higher interest rate stance. The Japanese market closed in positive territory. Japan's Nikkei stock average rallied sharply on Monday as investors bought back battered shares following the benchmark index's worst week in 2023. The Australian market ended with gains as a rally in tech stocks countered a drag from heavyweight miners and banks on the benchmark index, with investors now eyeing local inflation data. Thus, NIKKEI +0.85%; HANG SENG -1.82%; CSI 300 -0.65%; S&P/ASX 200 +0.11%; KOSPI -0.49%; SHANGHAI COMPOSITE -0.54% ended with mixed performances.
