Global Overview

United States:

The US stock market finished the session with modestly positive results among its main indices. On the S&P 500 benchmark side, profits led by the telecommunications, industrial and financial sectors outperformed losses in the health care and energy sectors. Also, the earnings of Nasdaq Composite were limited by biotechnology shares, investors appear to have brushed aside worries about the German elections, in which Chancellor Angela Merkel's outlook for a fourth term is in doubt, to return her focus to corporate profits and prospects for the reduction of taxes. It is also expected that the transactions of shares in the United States will decrease as the holiday approaches for Thanksgiving Day on Thursday, as well as for the abbreviated session that will be held on Friday. On the other hand, in news on commodities, oil prices fell back today to await the meeting of producers next week, which will discuss the possibility of extending the agreement of cuts in oil production. On the other hand, gold prices fell because the euro weakened against the dollar due to political concerns in Germany.

Europe:

EUROPE:
The European stock market closed the day with positive results among its main indexes. Today's news was the political conjuncture in Germany; On Sunday, the free democratic "pro-business" party ended the dialogues about the possible "Jamaica" coalition with Merkel's "Christian Democratic Union" and the "center-left" Greens. German President Frank-Walter Steinmeier called on political parties to return to the negotiating table rather than calling new elections. This collapse puts Merkel's fourth term as chancellor in doubt and also implies the possibility of a minority government, which would mean calling back to general elections. Angela Merkel said she prefers to call elections than to have a minority government. The German shares opened with negative results, but managed to improve throughout the day thanks to a fall in the euro. Regarding the companies, the pharmaceutical corporation Roche Holding (ROG) rose + 5.5% after the good results shown of two important tale phase traits: one for his hemophilia treatment Hemilitor and the other for Tecentriq, a therapy against cancer. With regard to England, the pound gained ground today after the announcement of the Chancellor Philip Hammond who pointed out that the United Kingdom is prepared to increase its payment for leaving the European Union. Media reports said that the payment to other thems.

Media Ports said that the payment to closuring the European Union. Media reports said that the payment to releaving the European Union. Media reports said that the payment for leaving the European Union. Media reports said that the payment to releaving the European Union requested. Theresa May met with her cabinet to discuss the project's theme. payment could be in the project's theme.

Asia:

ASIA:

The Asian stock market ended today's session with mixed results among its main indices, most of which were positive. Among the news that stood out the most, in Japan, the Nikkei 225 stock index feel by 0.5%. The cause of this fact was that, in Germany, negotiations to form the first government composed of center-right parties and left-wing environmentalists collapsed. As a result, the euro feel to a two-month low against the ven, appreciating the Japanese cunsistered a refuge asset) and not putting pressure on exporters, reducing their international competitiveness. Regarding China, shares fell by more than 15% shortly after the opening of negotiations, because the government draws up plans to curb the risks usequestion of a section of the practices that take advantage of legal gaps. Of the Chinese benchmark indexes, the Shenzhen Composite fell by 2.1% (before a strong rebound that reduced losses to only - 0.5%), after falling 2.5% on Friding 2.5% on Fr
